

Capacity & Spacing

Performances of A Broadway Holiday will run with a reduced audience capacity and we currently only have orchestra level seating available for purchase. Our ticketing system will ensure patrons are dispersed throughout the seating area and that the seats immediately in front of, behind and on either side of each group are kept clear.

While we will not be maintaining strict physical distancing requirements, all patrons are encouraged to be respectful of the personal space and comfort of the people around them while moving through common areas, lobbies and washrooms.

Proof of Vaccination

As per current public health orders, all attendees of in person performances of A Broadway Holiday are required to show proof that they have received two doses of COVID-19 vaccine as well as current photo identification.
